| Q: 11" height is not feasible when there bleed. So we plan on quoting 10.875, a reduction of 1/8". Please let me know if this is ok.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Question added by: Manny Diaz | 9/12/2019 2:54 PM CDT  |
| A: Please quote as specified.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Answered by: Cherise Toler    | 9/13/2019 10:21 AM CDT |
| Q: We are not able to produce this magazine at the 11" height. If we could get permission to quote the 10.875" we can provide pricing and you can decide to move forward with this more efficient size or stay are you are. Note, this would give you some insight into a more efficient size which potentially can reduce manufacturing and paper costs and would also reduce postage and freight slightly. However, we would have to no bid if specs stay as they are. Thank you! | Question added by: Manny Diaz | 9/16/2019 3:01 PM CDT  |
| A: Please feel free to submit bid as you choose. The end user may reject due to deviation from requested specifications, but it doesn't hurt to try.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Answered by: Cherise Toler    | 9/17/2019 10:01 AM CDT |
