<td>Texas A&amp;M University, Residence Life is seeking pricing to Provide Architectural and Engineering Services for Texas A&amp;M University's future Southside Village POR. The service and associated fees have been developed as a method to comprehensively understand the strategies, cost and schedule for future projects. The team will comprise the following Consultants: Architectural Services - Treanor Architects Mechanical, Electrical &amp; Plumbing Engineering - H2MG Structural Engineering - Haynes Whaley Technology - Data Com Civil Engineering - Kimley Horn Landscape - Coleman &amp; Associates Cost Estimating - Vermuleuns Two (2) Phase Work Plan as follows: 1. Visioning/ Goals &amp; Objectives. With the first step the Vision of the future project is established with a clear mission statement. The team will review stakeholder notes from the initial Amenities Study. In addition, it will be important the Team best understand the mission &amp; overall objectives of the project by working with the Building Committee and listening to all other stakeholders in the project. We will work collaboratively with the Building Committee to re-prioritize goals and gain clarity on the objectives in which to measure the POR. All consultants are involved to ensure that all disciplines are accountable to the goals set by TAMU. 2. Investigation/ Evaluation / Final Documentation. This phase includes a study &amp; computer modeling of the existing nine buildings, a program of all spaces with room data sheets, a thorough site analysis, design strategies for all disciplines, code analysis, a schedule for construction to minimize beds off line and an estimate of probable cost that works with your proforma. (Please review the attached work plan spreadsheet) This finalizes all Pre-Design materials/criteria needed for confidently advertising this project for design services. We anticipate 1 site visit investigation, 2 workshops on campus, 1 WebEx meeting to review the draft, and then presentations to your Vice President, Dean Banks, and finally the DRB during this phase. The purpose is to explore, study, and listen thoroughly so that ultimately, we create alignment between the budget and the final cost. Creating consensus between all stakeholders is important to the process to ensure the overall success of the future project.</td>
